Homestay with or without Spanish classes

We aim to provide students with an immersive experience in a family, treating them as one of the family members and giving them constant practice in Spanish. This is our goal.

We pay special attention to ensuring that the student and their host family are similar in cultural background, shared interests, and socioeconomic status. The families participating in this program are motivated by the desire for their children to experience different cultures.

During their stay, they will be accommodated in individual rooms. They will eat with a host family, participate in excursions, and enjoy cultural or sporting activities. Above all, they will have fun and learn. It is an ideal program to experience the Spanish way of life and learn a lot of Spanish.

The homestay option can include Spanish classes, taught by a qualified family member. The number of classes can be 10, 15, or 20 hours per week, which the student will have chosen beforehand.

During their stay, we maintain contact with the student to monitor their integration and progress in their studies. It is a high-quality service in which we have extensive experience.

Spanish in an academy

This program is offered in collaboration with a language school where students attend classes with other students. A language placement test is administered to determine the appropriate level.

Classes are limited to a maximum of 5 students. The school provides them with the appropriate learning materials for their level, enabling them to improve their learning through a structured methodology.

The school holds activities every day, which our students can join if they wish.

They stay with a host family on a full board basis. They take one full-day excursion or two half-day excursions per week. Above all, they will have fun and learn.

We offer accommodation services, selection of language classrooms, selection of teachers, study programs, organization and execution of cultural and sporting activities, airport and station transfer services, and monitoring and follow-up of students during their stay.

We design other options for student groups, integrating them into existing or tailor-made study programs, with public activities carried out by the City Council and cultural organizations, if there are places available, and always with the idea of offering quality education, a good level of families, and creating good memories of their stay.

We maintain contact with the student to learn about their integration and development in their training.

Homestay with Spanish school

Following the same philosophy of family integration, in this program the student integrates into the school, carrying out the same activities as their peers of the same age.

In this program, the student has a private room during their stay. They live with the family, eating and sleeping with them. Depending on the school and their age, they may also eat meals there. In some exceptional cases, they may share a room with the family's child. Every effort is made to place students with a family whose child also attends the same school.

Recreational activities are limited to one excursion and one weekly activity, as classes and work take up a lot of time.

The length of stay must be agreed upon taking into account the dates and the course they are taking.

Families pick them up at the station or airport and also accompany them on their return.

During their stay, we maintain contact with the student to learn about their integration and development in their training.

Spanish with guitar lessons

This program offers the experience of living with a Spanish family, combined with guitar lessons. You don't need to know how to play, nor do you need to bring your own guitar.

It's an ideal program for learning to play guitar or improving your skills and experiencing the Spanish way of life by joining a family. You'll learn to play different styles, such as classical, electric, and more.

Lessons are held Monday through Friday. They consist of 2 or 3 hours of guitar instruction per week. Ideal for both beginners and advanced players. Lessons are private and taught by qualified and highly experienced instructors.

There is the option to choose with or without Spanish classes. Both options offer excellent language learning. With the first option, classes are taught by a qualified and experienced family member. The number of classes can be either 10 or 15 hours per week, which the student will have selected beforehand.

During their stay, they will be accommodated in single rooms. They will take one full-day excursion or two half-day excursions. Above all, they will have fun and learn. They will stay with a host family where there is a young person of the same or similar age as the visiting student.

We maintain contact with the student to learn about their integration and development in their training.

Spanish with golf

In this program, students live with a host family and play four hours of golf each week. It's ideal for golf enthusiasts who want to improve their game and experience Spanish life by living with a family. It's suitable for both beginners and experienced golfers.

There is the option to choose with or without Spanish classes. Both options offer excellent language learning. In the first option, classes are taught by a qualified and trained family member. The number of classes can be either 10 or 15 hours per week, which the student will have selected beforehand.

During their stay, they will be accommodated in single rooms. They will take one full-day excursion or two half-day excursions. Above all, they will have fun and learn. They will stay with a host family where there is a young person of the same or similar age as the visiting student.

During their stay, we maintain contact with the student to learn about their integration and development in their training.

Golf camp with Spanish classes

In this program, students live with a host family and attend golf camp during the day. It's an ideal program for golf enthusiasts who want to improve their game and experience the Spanish way of life by living with a family.

The camp runs from Monday to Friday. We look for camps where Spanish children attend, so our students spend all day improving and learning Spanish.

During their stay, they will be accommodated in single rooms. They will take one full-day excursion or two half-day excursions. Above all, they will have fun and learn.

Spanish classes are taught by a qualified and trained family member. The number of classes can be either 10 or 15 hours per week, which the student will have chosen in advance.

During their stay, we maintain contact with the student to learn about their integration and development in their training.

Groups service VIP

One of our flagship services, and we have carried it out for more than 500 schools in France, the United States, New Zealand, Korea,... with a high rate of grade repetition.

We offer different types of accommodation, in families, residences or hotels, accommodating students in groups of two or three, in cases of special request, on a full board basis (with a midday picnic) or half board basis.

We create a program tailored to the teachers' educational needs. We book the requested activities. We provide tourist information and a travel journal for the teachers and the driver (if they are traveling by coach). We provide students with identification and teach them how to react if they get lost. We maintain constant contact with the teachers to adjust the program if necessary and help them explore the city.

With the homestay option, teachers have the choice of staying with host families free of charge, maintaining a ratio of one teacher for every ten students, or in a hotel for a fee depending on the hotel's category. The aim of this service is to offer safe and responsible accommodation for students. Host families are responsible for ensuring that students stay indoors at night and that they receive affection and communication. Teachers have the peace of mind that their students are in good hands and can disconnect and enjoy some leisure time for a few hours.

Groups family selection outside Barcelona

Terrassa is a city of about 200,000 inhabitants located in Vallès Occidental, 28 km from Barcelona.

It has a rich history dating back to prehistoric times, but its most significant development occurred during the Industrial Revolution, when it became a major textile center.

This left a remarkable architectural legacy: Modernist buildings and old factories that have since been transformed into museums or cultural centers, such as the Masia Freixa.

In addition to its historical and architectural heritage, Terrassa enjoys excellent transport links and is part of the Barcelona metropolitan area, making it easy to access the city and the capital. At the same time, it is close to natural areas—most notably the Sant Llorenç del Munt i l'Obac Natural Park—which are ideal for hiking and outdoor activities.

As for urban life, Terrassa combines comprehensive amenities (shops, schools, hospitals) with a more relaxed pace than Barcelona, making it attractive to both residents and visitors. Its atmosphere blends history, culture, nature, and modern urban living.

Special executives

A proven program that delivers effective results as long as you have a basic knowledge of the language. Intensive classes and constant communication with the host family are the foundation of the program.

Designed to help executives who need to work in Spanish acquire the necessary skills to communicate effectively and develop the technical vocabulary they require professionally. Integration can be achieved with 20, 25, or 30 hours of instruction.

The classes are taught by a member of the host family, who specializes in business and corporate terminology. We also have specialized centers for this type of training when the executive wishes to have greater autonomy.

The teachers and families are of a high standard, located in the best areas and naturally with single rooms.

The executive is on a full board plan and it is his own family who shows him the city.

Teach your language to a family

Ages 18 and up

All year

All of Spain

A foreign teacher gives classes in his language to a family, compensating with his integration into the family.

We offer a service to find a host family and a tutor. The tutor is a university-level professional who wants to get to know a city and the Spanish language. In exchange, they offer their language skills to a family for a few hours, usually 15 hours a week, and are prepared for this role.

The teacher's age is not very important; what matters is their willingness to integrate and their preparation for teaching the classes.

For several years now, we have been running this program with a high satisfaction rate.

During their stay, we maintain contact with the student to learn about their integration and development in their classes.

Sleep - breakfast - dinner.

Ages 18 and up

All year

Barcelona, Madrid, Palma de Mallorca, Seville, Salamanca, Valencia, Santander, Bilbao, and Gijón.

With the “Sleep, Have Breakfast, and Dinner with a Spanish Family” program, you will stay with a local family that opens its doors to you, allowing you to discover authentic Spanish life.

You will share conversations and the little moments of daily life with them-from a relaxed breakfast before heading out to a typical dinner where you can taste homemade dishes and learn real-life expressions.

It is the most authentic, personal, and safe way to experience Spanish culture, practice the language, and feel like part of a family during your stay.

We take great care in selecting families who not only meet the program requirements but also convey warmth, respect, and a welcoming atmosphere. Our goal is for you to feel comfortable from day one, as if you were part of their home.

During their stay, we maintain contact with the student to keep track of their integration and progress in their classes.
